Streamlined War Production Organization

Donald M. Nelson, America's war production czar, has scrapped the old office of production management and taken over most of its divisions. Nelson announced this revised setup for arming America and converting industry to war production, with the new division of industry operations to handle priorities. (NEA Telephoto.)

Decentralization of War Efforts Initial Desire of New Boss

Nelson Establishes New Field Division to Short Cut Work

Washington, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Washington awoke today to the realization that Donald M. Nelson is giving the war production job back to the whole country.

Nelson's announcement that he intended to establish a field service as a seventh and new major division of the war production board which he heads was regarded as a step toward decentralizing the war effort.

Officials said such a move, sending WPB men into the industrial centers of the country where the battle of the assembly lines is being fought, would shortcut a great part of the delays caused by paper work and letter writing and by the necessity of calling manufacturers to Washington to discuss production and conversion problems.

The high place accorded the proposed field service was taken as clear indication that Nelson intended to delegate to it a good share of the decision making power.

The field division will compare in importance, Nelson said, with the six major divisions of WPB set up by him yesterday, when he abolished the Office of Production Management — production, purchases, materials, labor, civilian supply and industrial organization.

Work of Field Offices

The field offices will handle not only the job of bringing small plants all over the country into the military arsenal, but will advise contractors on priorities, allocations of material "or anything else that pertains to getting the job done," Nelson told newsmen yesterday.

Nelson's theory of decentralizing control is getting its first big test in Detroit, where Ernest Kanzler, veteran automobile production man, is being sent with a staff to achieve the total conversion of the motor industry to arms production.

Nelson explained, "if there are other industries that have a location in a certain place, I see no reason why the branch chief shouldn't go right out to the place where he can do it the quickest without having to bring men back and forth to Washington to argue about the thing."

There will be a counterpart of Kanzler in every important industry, Nelson said. Such industry branch chiefs will report to the

Former Slave Dies Today at Age of 117

Chicago, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Kitty Carter, a negro, died today at an age her relatives claimed was 117.

Her 80-year-old grand niece, Mrs. Leona Jackson, with whom she lived, said that Mrs. Carter did not know how old she was until she applied for an old age pension six years ago. Pension authorities, checking records in Huntsville, Mo., discovered she was born May 2, 1824, Mrs. Jackson related.

Members of Mrs. Carter's family were slaves in the household of a man named Tracy. After her emancipation, Mrs. Carter came to Chicago, married, bore 17 children and outlived them all.

She attributed her longevity to plenty of sleep.

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

The anti-axis diplomatic front achieved among the American republics in conference at Rio de Janeiro may prove in the long run to be a bigger thing than the World War which brought it about, for we have here the beginnings of what might easily develop into a permanent politico-economic solidarity of all the states of the Western Hemisphere.

There we should have the counterpart of the United States of Europe which allied statesmen have been discussing anew as a post-war possibility for the rehabilitation of an Old World which is in a state of chaos that steadily grows worse. Should these two dreams be achieved, the great unions could then cooperate in plans for universal peace and plenty and thus carry out the work for which the League of Nations was conceived but failed to achieve.

* * *

It is hard to believe that the American republics ever will abandon their new-found solidarity, once they have inaugurated the vast war production plan of the United States for the Western Hemisphere. That plan strikes much deeper than the war, since it provides for such far-reaching changes as abolition of all trade barriers, the establishment of a common currency among all anti-axis nations and the inauguration of great international harbor, canal and highway projects.

This gesture of the United States, by which she flings all her resources into the defense of the entire hemisphere, cannot but help dispel any suspicions which might still linger in other American republics that we harbor selfish intentions as regards our neighbors.

Then there has been the heavy clash of trade interests, as in the

Russians Slash at Retreating Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

Russian troops slashed at the rearguard of Adolf Hitler's retreating German armies seven miles west of Mozhaisk today, while in London Ai. Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair declared that the British army now was organizing "the greatest possible striking force for offensive operations on the European continent".

Sinclair gave no indication whether a British counter invasion was imminent.

On the North African front, British troops who had swept more than 300 miles across the Libyan desert in pursuit of Gen. Erwin Rommel's armies met their first setback in the two months old counter offensive.

Cairo headquarters acknowledged that three strong axis columns made a 10 mile "reconnaissance in force" into British positions yesterday below Mersa Brega, a coastal town on the Gulf of Sirte, about halfway between Agedabia and El Agheila.

Agedabia is 70 miles northeast of El Agheila.

State Supreme Court Again Affirms Its Decisions in Geneseo Case Today

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Privately-owned utility companies received another setback today in their legal fight to operate in municipalities after franchises have expired when the Illinois Supreme court refused to reconsider a decision empowering cities to oust power firms whose franchises have not been renewed.

The ruling today in the far-reaching "Geneseo Case" in effect affirmed two previous decisions in which the court held that cities can force utility companies to remove their poles, wires and other equipment from city streets when their franchises expire.

Utility companies, who argued that the state Commerce Commission should have jurisdiction over franchises instead of local communities, have indicated they might take the case, involving property valued at millions of dollars, to the United States Supreme court.

The court made no comment in denying the petition to reconsider its decision. The ruling apparently exhausted all legal remedies before the state Supreme court.

The first decision in 1940 authorized the city of Geneseo and the village of Heyworth to compel privately owned utilities to remove their equipment from city streets and reversed previous decisions that authorized utilities to continue operation despite expiration of their franchises. The two communities wanted to substitute publicly owned power systems for the privately owned utilities.

The 1940 decision was upheld in a second decision handed down last November.

Warns Rationing of Electricity Nears; Possibly This Year

Even Private Homes of Country May Be Dimmed to Save Power

Washington, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Congress received from government power officials today a blunt warning that the nation faced a rationing of electricity—possibly this year—that may even dim private homes to conserve power for the defense program.

That possibility was voiced by Leland Olds, chairman of the Federal Power Commission, and G. O. Wessenauer, acting power manager for the Tennessee Valley Authority, in testimony during house appropriations committee hearings on the independent offices supply bill approved today.

The rationing of electricity for homes, offices, night clubs and other civilian purposes, Olds told the committee, "is going to be necessary and is going to be done." A survey to determine the power supply of the various areas is being made "to determine just what loads can be cut off without materially interfering with the normal life of the community."

The more serious shortages of power naturally will occur in the heaviest defense production areas, Olds explained, and the population of those areas may face a serious reduction of their normal activities requiring the use of electricity.

Power Insufficient

At present, Olds told the committee, there is not sufficient power available or projected to meet the defense load of 1942, 1943 or 1944 without either additional capacity or a "material curtailment". He estimated the total shortage at several million kilowatts this year and probably three or four million in 1943.

Wessenauer said he was "certain" there would have to be some conservation of electricity to meet the defense requirements.

The testimony on the scores of independent federal agencies of the government brought out that:

1. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has made commitments of about $6,000,000,000 for the defense and war program.

2. Budget Director Harold D. Smith recommended a more careful check to determine whether states are actually matching federal funds allocated them for many projects.

3. Tennessee Valley Authority has developed a process for production of alumina (basic material for making aluminum) from valley clays.

4. Federal funds will be used only for construction of strategic highways and access roads for duration of the emergency.

5. The Civil Service Commission lacks staff and funds for complete checkup of thousands holding government jobs.

Eight Point Program

At the end of 1941, Olds said, the installed capacity in public utility generating stations was approximately 42,800,000 kilowatts, with a total dependable capacity

No Defense Plant 'Installation' Now Planned in Lee Co.

Enthusiasm, engendered by rumors that a defense plant was to be located in Marion township, Lee county, which have been recently widely circulated in Dixon, Amboy and vicinity, was allayed today by a report by long distance telephone from Lyle O. Snader, secretary to Congressman Leo E. Allen at Washington.

Direct from the Secretary of War Department came emphatic denial of the immediate establishment of a defense unit on the site. According to Snader, the department has been besieged with inquiries about the Lee county location as well as other sites which have been or are being surveyed by U. S. War department engineers. The text of the War Department report on what is known in Washington as the "Amboy survey" follows:

Text of Report

"The Department is aware of a recent survey conducted near Amboy, but in this connection stated that the Lee county site is but one of several which have been or will be surveyed. When the engineers have completed their surveys, all of the reports will be forwarded to the War Department to be reviewed.

"No plan has been approved at this time and no final decision will be made until all of the surveys have been completed and the findings reviewed by the War Department. After a true preliminary survey, the Department will select a site with a possible view of an installation".

The word "installation' was taken to cover any proposed defense plant or activity the War Department might decide upon as that office in Washington would not disclose the type of "installation" being considered. This information came direct from Secretary Snader in the office of Congressman Allen today, at the request of the Evening Telegraph, which called upon the Washington representatives to launch an investigation to determine the anticipated government activity and to allay the many rumors which have been current in this location for weeks.

1 Out of 102

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—By the end of the current fiscal year, one out of about every 102 people in the United States will be on the federal civil payroll, the house was informed today by its appropriations committee.

The committee obtained its figures from Budget Director Harold D. Smith during hearings on the independent offices appropriation bill.

Smith estimated that by next June 30 there would be 1,258,795 federal employes, compared with 812,788 on June 30, 1838, and 929,565 on June 30, 1940.

Decision on Fate of Wooden Leg Is Left To Governor Green

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle is going to let Governor Green decide whether General Santa Ana's wooden leg stays in the State Museum here, or goes to the government of Mexico as a gesture of good will.

That was the word today from the Adjutant General when he was asked about a letter in which Dr. John J. Gill of Chicago protested against the return of the military relic supposed to have been seized by Illinois troops in 1847. Dr. Gill said his uncle, John M. Gill of Pekin, and two others did the seizing after a battle near Vera Cruz.

Dr. Gill said he sent letters to both Governor Green and Boyle opposing return of the prize to Mexico, as recommended in a resolution recently adopted by the Illinois House of Representatives.

Soil Conservation in Henry County Takes in Total of 527,000 Acres

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Annexation of 74,000 acres in Henry county to the Munson soil conservation district was announced today by Howard Leonard, state director of agriculture, who said the district thus became the largest in Illinois with a total of 527,000 acres.

Leonard said the soil conservation board approved the annexation at a meeting Jan. 16 in Cambridge and that no objections were raised in the hearing.

Petitions have been filed for organization of soil conservation districts in Shelby, Edgar, Bureau and Tazewell counties and hearings will be held in February, the director said.

INVITATION WITHDRAWN

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) told his colleagues that immediately after public attention was called to a Quartermaster Corps invitation for bids on 1,000 rubber mats, the invitation was withdrawn.

Argentine Blocks Unanimity Even as U. S. Expands Help

Two More Merchantmen Torpedoed Monday; 46 Men Missing

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 22—(AP)—A member of Argentina's delegation to the Pan American conference raised an 11th hour objection today to the turn of an important phrase in the draft resolution for unanimous American breach of relations with the axis—a point which cast a shadow on previously indicated unanimity.

The Argentine foreign minister and head of that country's delegation, Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, meanwhile, said he approved the idea of breaking off relations "in principle" but added that the delegation was awaiting final word from Buenos Aires.

A member of the delegation said his group would seek two modifications in the text of the agreement this afternoon.

The first change would be drop the word "collective" at the end of article four to make the resolution say that consultation be held before any resumption of axis relations thus to establish that the decision is merely "unanimous" and not "collective". Other conferees are expected to agree to this.

But the other objection, a proposal to change the wording of key article three, was expected to produce a fight.

As article three stands it would have the American republics declare that they "cannot continue diplomatic relations with Japan,

Manufacturer Put $35,000 in Timber

Chicago, Jan. 22 — (AP)—A prosecution witness in the Federal court trial of nine persons charged with defrauding investors of $7,000,000 in the sale of Mexican timberlands testified today that he was made a member of the promoter's advisory commission but was never asked for advice.

"We were just a mutual admiration society" said W. G. Michleson, who is in the office fixture business at Rockford, Ill.

Michleson testified that in 1929 he invested $4,500 in International Syndicate, a forerunner of Resources Corporation International, and was given a $500 discount. The government contends the Mexican timberlands were promoted through the Resources Corporation at excessive valuation.

The witness testified that he traveled in a private railroad car to Mexico from Chicago in 1932 and that he took a horseback inspection trip through "tall pines and mahogany trees" for seven to eight hours, after his arrival.

He said he was told by W. L. Kellogg, one of the defendants, that the syndicate was seeking to acquire the timberlands which he quoted Kellogg as saying had a potential valuation 17 times the syndicate's capitalization.

A manufacturing official testified yesterday that he invested $35,000 in the corporation.

The witness, Gilbert S. Lance, secretary-treasurer of Coopers, Inc., underwear manufacturers of Kenosha, Wis., said he invested $10,000 in cash and turned over 25,000 shares in stock in Florida land for 3,500 shares of Resources Corporation International.

Cooking School's Sessions Come to Close Tomorrow

Hundreds of women from Dixon and its trade area crowded into the Dixon Theater yesterday afternoon for the second day's session of The Telegraph's eighth annual cooking school. A throng of eager housewives, many of them from surrounding towns and rural districts, were waiting at the doors, long before the opening hour.

Nearly every homemaker attending was equipped with pencil and paper, so she could jot down her own notes as Mrs. George Thurn, lecturer demonstrated a number of interesting new recipes and gave valuable hints on how to lighten household tasks, thus providing additional time for defense work.

Mrs. Thurn interests and inspires her listeners with her informal talks and demonstrations in good cookery and homemaking. Yesterday afternoon, leading questions on homemaking problems were numerous, and Mrs. Thurn dealt individually with as many as possible. Most of them were for recipes; some more specific about procedure.

Stage Kitchen Busy

The stage kitchen was busy from the time the sesssion opened until it closed. Mrs. Thurn and her assistant, Miss Eva Stewart, were mixing and beating, stirring and garnishing, opening the refrigerator to put desserts and other dishes to chill, and attending her oven and other cookery on the range, while she talked and displayed utensils, answered questions, and kept the session moving briskly along.

Finished dishes brought applause and enthusiastic comments from the big audience, and there were frequent bursts of hand-clapping throughout the discussion, when Mrs. Thurn demonstrated a new dish or answered quickly and helpfully a question handed in on one of the slips, provided specially for this use.

There is both excitement and

Boy, 15, Confesses Starting Bad Fire

Chicago, Jan. 22.—(AP)—A 15-year-old high school freshman confessed today, Assistant Corporation Counsel Earl Downes announced, that he had started a fire in a north side building which caused an estimated loss of between $150,000 and $200,000 May 4, 1940.

Downes said the youth, known both as John Fairbanks and George Bennett, admitted he had tossed lighted paper match books that started the blaze, which destroyed 11 stores and their contents. At the same time the state's attorney's office disclosed that an indictment, stemming from the blaze, had been returned against the youth, but had subsequently been dismissed with leave to reinstate.

Downes said the youth admitted tossing the matches "just to be mischievous."

Unexpected

Miami, Fla., Jan. 22—(AP)—Policemen hurled hand grenades, fired tear gas shells, riot and machine guns in practice here, but decided there would be no more shooting of parachute flares.

They stuffed the parachute flare into the barrel that fires it, and let it go.

A few minutes later they were firemen instead of policemen. It took hours of beating and backfiring to put out the grass blaze.

Battle for Singapore Reaches Its Crucial State During Day

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

A critical, perhaps decisive battle raged in the Malayan jungles 70 miles north of Singapore today as British, Australian and Imperial Indian troops launched a major counter offensive to smash the main Japanese invasion armies in the Muar river sector.

On the Philippine battlefront, a war department bulletin said that Japanese troops on Luzon island—already estimated to number 200,000—were being reinforced and that the invaders were again heavily attacking Gen. Douglas MacArthur's fiery defenders.

The communique reported seaborne Japanese troops were being landed in Lingayen gulf, 110 miles north of Japanese-held Manila, and in Subic bay, near the approaches to Batan peninsula.

In Malaya, it seemed apparent that a crucial test in the struggle for Singapore was in progress.

Behind the lines, British fliers claimed a heavy toll of Japanese transport columns north of Parti Bulong.

Singapore Counts Toll

Singapore, under almost incessant aerial assault, grimly counted a toll of 304 killed and 725 wounded in yesterday's 100 plane Japanese attack — comparatively surpassing the worst raids on London at the height of the blitz.

But the beleaguered island colony was cheered by the arrival of Hurricane pursuit fighters. When 30 Japanese warplanes roared over Singapore again today RAF fliers were credited with shooting down five bombers and damaging a fighter.

Coincidentally, a Chinese army spokesman reported that fear of attack by allied bombers had spurred 30,000 to 40,000 Japanese to leave parts of Japan for Shanghai and other centers along the lower Yangtze valley.

In the Dutch East Indies, where Japan's far flung invasion hordes were striking in heavy force, the Dutch announced they had destroyed the great oil wells and oil plants at Balik Papan, on the east coast of Dutch Borneo.

Balik Papan is about 175 miles below Tarakan island, off the northeast coast of Borneo, where the Japanese gained their first foothold in the Indies.

With the Japanese threatening to overrun the whole vast Pacific war theater, even Australia, Batavia announced that United States fortress bombers had now arrived in the Dutch East Indies and had sunk a Japanese cruiser and set fire to a 10,000-ton Japanese tanker 100 miles south of Jolo island, in the southern Philippines.

Passenger Fares of Railroads To Go Up Sometime in February

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—The nation's railroads held official authority today to raise passenger fares 10 per cent to meet increased wages and operating costs.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, acting upon urgent pleas of the carriers, granted the increase which it is estimated would yield an extra $45,000,000 on the basis of last year's revenues.

The fares will go up 10 days after the companies file new tariffs with the ICC and they will become effective between Feb. 1 and Feb. 4.

The railroads' application for a jump in freight rates by the same percentage still is pending before the commission.

The passenger fare increase applies to all except the 1¼ cents a mile rate for service men on furlough, and the rates charged on extra fare trains.

Basic railroad fare for Pullman passengers, exclusive of Pullman charges, now is 3 cents a mile. The basic coach fare is two cents in the east and west and 1½ cents in the south.

Mock Air Raid Instructions May Be Efforts of Fifth Columnists

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Mock air raid instruction circulars poking fun at civilian defense activities "may be the work of fifth columnists rather than a practical joke," Governor Green said.

The governor, who is chairman of the State Defense Council, said in a statement that copies of the sham instructions were circulating rapidly through the state and added:

"If the fictitious instructions were intended as a joke, it appears to me to be a matter of doubtful patriotism to distribute or aid in the distribution of anythin derogatory."

The circulars to which the governor objected were facetious instructions for conduct in air raids including admonitions to shake unexploded bombs, throw gasoline on fires and eat limburger cheese before going to shelters.

The governor said that spread of the circulars through Illinois after appearing in the east was too rapid to have been a joke.

"The success of air raid defense and other measures designed to help our citizenry," the governor said, "depends to a large extent on respect which defense officials are able to command. Anything which inclines a person to consider defense workers' commands as absurd naturally tends to lessen their efficiency and their value in event of trouble x x x."

The governor asked persons knowing the source of the mock circulars to report to the State Defense Council.

Fort Sheridan Sentry Kills Engineer Who Ignored Challenge

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Jan. 22 — (AP)—A civilian night fireman, Peter Tognarelli, 60, of Highwood, was shot and killed Tuesday night when, army authorities said, he failed to heed a sentry's challenge.

Tognarelli, employed by the WPA, was coming to work at the fort about 11 p. m., using a pedestrian gate. The army public relations office said Corp. Denver Miller, 23, the sentry, challenged Tognarelli three times before firing. The civilian was shot three times.

Corp. Miller was held on a technical charge pending a military inquiry. Fort Sheridan authorities also called in Coroner John L. Taylor of Lake county to make his own inquiry because the victim was a civilian.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A Thought for Today

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.—II Timothy 1:7.

* * *

I will never be by violence constrained to do anything.—Queen Elizabeth.

When the New AEFs Go Out to Fight

Soon another million or more American men will be joining the colors, and the vanguard of half-dozen AEFs of 1942 will be on their way. They go out to fight in foreign fields, yet they go to fight to defend their own country at home.

We are still more fortunate, in the very face of these foreign campaigns, than the people of most of the other countries in the war. We still have a chance to keep actual warfare largely away from our own homes. Sporadic attacks may be made on continental United States, but unless things go worse than we have a right to expect, there is no reason to expect any major fighting in the United States itself.

Barring singular ill-fortune, we should not have to see our homeland overrun as the people of a dozen countries have been forced to see it. China, Russia, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, the Philippines, Norway, Greece, Yugoslavia—all these and many others have been forced to undergo the ultimate in war horror, the destruction and downfall of their own homes, lands and institutions. We shall be forced to undergo the death of many a fine American soldier, and that will be hard enough to bear. But the added horrors which London has seen, and Rotterdam, which Chungking and Shanghai and Peking have undergone, may be spared us.

The farther from our American shore our soldiers go to fight the enemies of America, the less the chance that the war itself can come literally to America. Our AEFs go to drive war as far away from America as they can. It is in order to spare their people at home from meeting face to face war's horrors, that these Americans go to seek out the battle far away.

If it seems hard that a soldier should be sent so far from home to fight—to Iceland, to Alaska, to Australia or Guiana or Africa, it is just as well for us who remain behind to remember that it is to protect us and keep actual war at a long arm's length from America that they go forth.

Is it possible that the people for whose protection at home they go out to die in strange places at the world's ends will do less than see that they are supplied with everything they need?

What this country needs right now is day clubs for night workers.

Americans Are Still Home-Owners

In spite of all that has been said about increases in tenancy, in spite of all the increases in government housing, in spite of debts, mortgages, payment plans, a lot of Americans still own their own homes, and a surprising number own them free and clear.

True, owner-occupancy is slowly declining, according to data compiled from the 1940 census by the U. S. Savings and Loan League of Chicago. In 1930, figures for 23 states showed an average of owner-occupation of homes of 45.4 per cent. In 1940 it had dropped to 41.4. In 19 of those states, an average of 56.2 per cent of owner-occupied homes were owned free of mortgage debt.

The old American home-owning tradition may be dying, but it is dying hard, and so slowly as to suggest that measures might yet be taken to reverse the trend.

The Future Industrial South

Further evidence now comes forward in support of the idea that the country is being made over before our eyes, though the eyes do not always see clearly what is going on.

The south was rapidly becoming industrialized even before the war crisis. But the war industries now arising as if by magic, are changing the picture even more rapidly. Chemicals, pulp and paper, metals, iron and steel, rayon—all these and many other industries are being built up in the south as a result of the war effort. The facilities thus built will remain when the war shall have been won.

They may well mean a death blow to the sectional specialization which has had so great an influence on the country's social history in the past 50 years.

Power and Responsibility—Twins

Miss Perkins, whose cabinet career has come in for considerable criticism, may or may not be the greatest Secretary of Labor since William Nuckles Doak. But in her annual report to congress she said a mouthful.

Now that organized labor has become "an established American institution," she warned, it must look about it at the other established American institutions which became powerful factors in the national welfare, used that power irresponsibly, lost the confidence of the people, and were then subjected to regulation and control by government.

Nothing is more clearly true than that power and responsibility are Siamese twins. Any effort to exercise either without the other is not only doomed to failure but to amendment by the indignant public which is inevitably the victim.

Slogan for Nanyo

The 3,000 islands of the south Pacific, which the Japanese have been busily stealing for the past 40 years, have been named by their new bosses Nanyo.

All the island archipelagoes over which Japan was granted mandates by the League of Nations after World War I have been fortified in direct defiance of treaty, and Japanese have been filtered into them until in some cases they outnumber the natives. The whole has been loosely linked into an "economic empire" that was primarily a mere chain of military bases for the Pacific War. So one of the tasks before us may well be stated in a slogan, "Tie a can-yo to Nanyo!"

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—Advance thinking about the kind of world we should have after the war is circulating through lofty realms these days—unanswered and almost un-noticed.

Vice President Henry Wallace went up into the chandelier with an Atlantic Monthly article (reprinted in the Congressional Record) saying, "if we can afford tremendous sums of money to win the war, we can afford to invest whatever amount it takes to win the peace." He told how he wanted to spend the money for this peace rebuilding.

He wants to industrialize non-industrial nations, use wheat to feed and cotton to clothe the undernourished and ill-clad around the world—and even establish "certain minimum standards of food, clothing and shelter" and arrange that no nation shall fall below those standards.

He also wants a world "ever-normal granary" for the future, world stabilization of production and prices, no tariff barriers, equal access to raw materials and a lot of other things which many people agree the new world should have.

But the detail and scope of Wallace's vision goes far beyond common acceptance into gold-glittered labyrinths in which the United States would undertake to finance a new world order apparently to a length commensurate possibly with the cost of the war.

Now, the various official and unofficial thinkers here do not disagree on the point that this country should feed the hungry and clothe the naked. That's charity. What Wallace wants seems to be something ten times as great and entirely different—the establishment of world living standards commensurate with our own, a world new deal financed by us. That is astronomical reform.

A defect of Wallace's dream is that he neglects to calculate how it is all going to be paid for. He is essentially a farm thinker. He thinks in terms of our farm surpluses being consumed in great quantities by remote poor nations. He even says the United States had made a start toward his world goal by the food-stamp plan, the cotton-stamp plan, the home-made government mattresses program and free lunch in the schools.

Wallace neglects the fact that such a thing as a "free" lunch never existed. Until man acquires the power of ceration, someone will always have to pay for a free lunch. In the old barrooms the consumer paid for it in the price of his beer. In the schools today, the taxpayers of this country are paying for the free lunches.

The only thing he says about paying (aside from the fact that we should be able to afford it) is that nations having raw materials could furnish us these in greatly increased quantities. We could acquire stocks from them with our gold, he says. Also he sees the chance of swapping our pork and lard and flour for South American tropical fruits and cocoa. This, of course, could hardly cover the bill that Wallace wants to run up.

The question therefore which seeems to be arising is how deep we shall go into these new waters—whether we shall do what is required to encourage world liberalism realistically, or whether we shall set up, say, a free-lunch counter for the world. My guess is that someone will shortly get Wallace down out of that chandelier.

Comes now also one Harold J. Laski, the noted British political scientist, with a post-war plan which he submits in that obscure pasture of erudition—the "letters-to-the-editor" section of the New York Times. Laski wants an Anglo-American world reformation for liberalism, as does everyone. But he also wants it enforced with economic sanctions and a few other things, and particularly he says:

"The lend-lease principle is not less applicable in peace than in war. It implies an obligation on the part of the richer states to assist the poorer states in the development of a higher standard of life."

Laski makes the "richer nations" plural, but he did not say how much of the "obligation" might be financed outside the United States.

Wallace is chairman of the president's committee delving into economic warfare and peace and will no doubt assume some leadership on both. At least a dozen government departments are studying post-war problems, mostly concerned with domestic spending in housing and public works, to offset depressing effects of the cessation of war production.

Unless their thinking is to get so far in advance that they will run away with a ball no one else has yet seen, it is apparent wider discussion is in order.

If anyone wants to add anything to Wallace's thoughts, his address is The Capitol, Washington, D. C.

Former Pastor of Dixon Church Now Flies Army Plane

Rev. David Rawls, former popular young pastor of the West Eng Congregational church, is now a full-fledged U. S. Army pilot, with the title of First Lieutenant, and according to word received by Dixon friends is now piloting one of the huge bombing planes stationed at Hickam field at Honolulu, Hawaii. Lieut. Rawls in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heckman, 320 Poplar street, tells of his experience with the members of his crew on Sunday, Dec. 7 when the Japs made their surprise attack on Honolulu.

With his crew, Lieut. Rawls took his bomber into the air to oppose the attackers and while his plane was hit several times and considerably damaged, he managed to bring it to a landing without any of the crew members being injured.

Lieut. Rawls resigned from the pastorate of the Congregational church two years ago last September with intention of entering the service as a chaplain. Later, he reconsidered and enlisted in the air corps and very successfully qualified as an expert pilot. In his interesting letter he tells of being in the air on patrol duty on Christmas Day when his crew observed the holiday by cutting and eating a pie while in the air He states that often during his flights he thinks of Dixon and the many friends he made during his pastorate here.

Survivors of Two Torpedoed Vessels Tell of Experience

Ships Beset by U-Boat Off Atlantic Coast Monday Morning

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 22—(AP)—With their ship torpedoed and sunk within sight of land, three survivors of the coastwise steamer City of Atlanta recalled today how they spent nearly seven hours in the cold sea off North Carolina awaiting rescue and watching shipmates lose their grip from wreckage and disappear.

The three, all from Savannah, Ga., were the only known survivors of a crew listed at 47 by the navy. John York of Clayton, Ga., second assistant engineer, died shortly after being taken aboard the Seatrain Texas, a rescue ship.

Two survivors, Robert Fennell, Jr., oiler, and George B. Tavelle, second mate, are in a hospital, while Earl Dowdy, uninjured, left for Savannah last night.

Twenty-one survivors of the 3,700-ton Latvian cargo ship Cultvaira, also torpedoed without warning off the North Carolina coast were brought to Charleston, S. C. Two of the crew of 32 were killed by the explosion. Nine other survivors were taken to another port.

Beset Monday Morning

The 5,269 ton City of Atlanta and the Cultvaira were beset by enemy submarines early Monday morning.

Fennell of the City of Atlanta said the torpedo sounded like a pistol shot. He bolted upright in his bunk, saw the sea through a gaping hole in the freighter's side. He raced for a companion way as the ship listed to port.

"The next six hours and 45 minutes," said the 22-year-old oiler from his hospital bed, "was a hell of holding on to wreckage, trying to keep afloat, praying a lot and swearing at the men aboard the big submarine that passed within 50 feet of us."

Tavelle, on duty when the torpedo struck, said he was thrown into the sea. A submarine searchlight, he related, blinded him and about 20 others, holding to bits of wreckage. Some of the men couldn't hold out and soon sank beneath the waves.

Tavelle said "We yelled ourselves hoarse when the Seatrain Texas came near and lowered a boat and threw over lines, a ladder and life preservers."

Survivors said the freighter sank so fast there was no time to launch lifeboats.

ANGEL'S FISTS FLY

CHAPTER XVI

MONEY is bad for my system. I'm not used to it in big gobs, and it goes to my head like liquor. Juddy is no better. Both of us were suffering from financial delusions of grandeur.

Besides what we were taking in, each of us had a little of our original capital left—Juddy in the bank, me in the sock. Nothing would do us but we had to make our dream of the big central dinery and dance floor come true.

Well, before we knew it, the old place was full of high-priced carpentry noises. No hillbilly labor this time. Costs began to pile up so fast that we were afraid to look at our weekly sheets.

"Let's face it, pal," I said. "I know it's worse than we thought it would be, but how much have we let ourselves in for?"

Juddy bit the end off of her pencil. "Well, say six thousand, minimum."

"You say it," I said. "I'd choke."

"What'll we do now?"

I had one of my brilliant flashes. "What's a bank for?" I said. "We can take our books down to La Rue at the Leverton National."

So we put it up to Maurie Sears. He didn't seem too taken with the notion, and his report was a sock.

"It looks to me like Hollister Mowry is blocking it," he said.

"What's his idea?" I said.

"You know he's got the gold fever, don't you? He'll be after those diggings as soon as the Welliver lease is up."

When we were back in the car, Juddy said:

"Any other ideas, Mom?"

"The only thing I can think of is for you to marry a millionaire," I said.

"I did," she said. "Look what it got me."

"There's others and maybe different," I said.

SHE took a long time before she answered. "I could always go back to Hendy."

That was a surprise. "Have you still got a yen for him?"

She shook her head. "No, but I never was cut out for being poor. Every morning when I wake up and look at Tambay Mansion I call myself a fool for living this way any longer. By evening, I'm loving the place so that I can't bear to think of leaving it. It's Tambay against Hendy. Tambay and you and—" She stopped.

"Angel?" I said.

She gave me that queer, slanted look again.

"Angel wouldn't be any help to the payroll," I said. "We've got to be practical. I'll let the crew go as soon as the floor is done."

At that, it didn't work out so badly. We had a swell dance floor that brought in a nice additional piece of cash every pleasant weekend.

It was nearly a month before we saw Angel again. He stopped in late Friday evening. The first thing he said was:

"Where's Juddy?"

"Gone to bed."

"That's a devil of a note," he said. He sat down and started ordering everything on the menu.

"Hey!" I said. "What's the answer? Have you broken training?" I could tell by his breath that he had.

"Just for once," he said.

After he'd eaten he said, "I want to see little Juddy."

"No, you don't. Not in your condition. You wouldn't do yourself a bit of good with her."

"Then let's pry Oliver out. I've got some things to settle with that rat."

"Listen, Angel," I said. "You beat it for Welliver. You don't want to get yourself in wrong. Come back in the morning."

Sometimes I'm just a plain sucker. I thought I had him fixed. So I closed the shop and hit the hay.

A tattoo on my window woke me up. It was a thick, foggy night, but the dim figure in the yard couldn't be anybody but Angel; it was too big.

"Let me in, will you, Mom?"

"I thought I told you to go home."

"I tried. The car's gone flooey."

"Get along. Thumb yourself a ride," I said.

"Nobody'll take me. You wouldn't blame 'em if you could see me."

* * *

ANGEL was a picture. One of his eyes was closing. There was a smear above his cheekbone and below it the flesh was pulpy. Across his chin ran a gash. His right ear was mottled with blood.

"My God!" I said. "What did you tangle with? A truck?"

Juddy showed up at the stairhead. "What is it?" she said. Then, "Angel!"

"Hello, sweetie. Come and view the ruins."

She ran down. "You're hurt! Was it a collision?"

He managed a smile in spite of a bulge in his upper lip that would be called a salient on a war-map. "Just a little argument," he said.

"Get my first aid kit, Juddy," I said. "Keep your finger out of that eye, Angel. Where's the other guy?"

"In the river-bed, I guess," he said. "You can have him, Mom."

"What would I want of him?"

"Well, he's a friend of yours," he said.

I stopped the work. "Why, you big heel!" I said. "Not Doc Oliver!"

"Parfetty-mah, as we say in French class."

"That's fine," I said. "That's swell. That's my big, brave lad." I was good and sore.

"Well, he hit me first," he said.

"You're a liar. What would he do that for?"

"Don't, Mom," Juddy put in. What did happen, Angel?"

"When the old car pooped out on me, I wasn't feeling too good. It kind of came into my head to tell Loren Oliver just what I thought of him, with illustrations. I piped him out of his stockade, but we didn't get very far with the conversation."

By this time I'd finished my patchwork, and told him so. Juddy said, "Take my car and go back, Angel."

He didn't even try to stall. "I guess I'm in plenty of trouble," he said.

We got a flash and started our hunt. It didn't take long to locate Doc. He was in the stream bottom, leaning against a boulder.

"Good evening," he said. There wasn't much gimp in his voice. I hated to turn the light on him, for fear of what I was going to see.

It wasn't like that at all. Not a mark on him except one slight bump, low on the jaw. But he was a mass of mud, and his eyes blinked as if he was half awake.

"Are you all right?" she said.

"Quite, thank you," he said, and straightened up. But he'd have flopped, sure, if she hadn't caught him on one side just as I got to him on the other.

"Ribs?" I said.

"I'll be all right," he said.

Helene de Lhorbe Becomes Bride on Island of Aruba

Just as the setting sun was sending its golden shafts across the blue of the Caribbean sea on Friday evening, Jan. 9, Miss Helene Lois de Lhorbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William de Lhorbe of Oregon, Ill., exchanged nuptial vows with Lyle J. Redfoot in the chapel of the Lago Community church on the island of Aruba in the Dutch West Indies, off the coast of Venezuela.

The Rev. W. D. Bigart read the wedding service. Miss Vena Walz, organist, played two versions of Ave Maria during a short prelude, and during the ceremony, she modulated to soft strains of Schubert's "Serenade."

In the absence of her father, the bride was given in marriage by MacGregor Brown. James Seymour was best man for the bridegroom.

The bride wore a blue-street-length dress with white accessories, and a shoulder corsage of gardenias and summer lilacs. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Henschke, was dressed in navy sheer, with white accessories, and a corsage of rosebuds and Coralita.

A buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor Brown followed the ceremony. Later in the evening, the bride and bridegroom entertained at a reception at their own home in Lago.

Mrs. Redfoot is a faculty member at the Standard Oil company's school at Lago, and Mr. Redfoot is also employed by the Standard Oil company in Aruba.

"The Doctor CAN WAIT"

Yes, most of us have said that very thing at one time or another. We are usually prompt in paying the other bills we owe, but somehow the Doctor's statement gets shuffled to the bottom of the stack. We know that he "won't say anything" if we are a bit tardy with his money. But, are we being quite fair with the man who has rendered so great a service for us?

Let's resolve right now that this month we'll at least pay the Doctor "something on account." He will appreciate it.

Phidians Hear Paper on China

"Old China," a land of strange contrasts, was described by Mrs. Theodore Goe, Tuesday afternoon for members of the Phidian Art club, who were guests of Mrs. Ray Miller. Commenting that her subject "is about as old as the story of the Creation," Mrs. Goe presented a vivid picture of the beauty and sordidness of the country; its cities, with their narrow streets and colorful markets; its industries, religions and customs.

"It's hard to explain how such a beautiful country can practice such awful deeds," the speaker stated. "While traveling in China, one has always a dread of bandits."

The city of Shanghai was described as unsanitary but colorful, with letter writers, fortune tellers, cobblers and barbers to be found on the streets. In Canton, Mrs. Goe said, the streets are narrow, with open vegetable markets, pig markets, and curio shops. Geese, rats and sugar-blown candy rats are among the wares displayed.

The manufacture of hair nets, when popular with American women, was one of the great industries of China, the speaker told her audience. The country is the only place where the white pig is raised, and is the source for white bristles for tooth brushes. Tea is also an important industry.

Mrs. Goe spoke of various religions of China, including Buddhism, Confuscianism, and Taoism. Chinese homes have stone flooors and no heat, and an ideal family consists of five sons and two daughters. A chain is hung about the necks of the sons to keep the evil spirits away, but the daughters are not held in such high regard. Elderly persons are regarded reverently.

The Chinese New Year is an occasion of great importance, and is the incentive for house-cleaning, closing of shops, and paying of bills. The Chinese are skilled gamblers, the clubwomen learned, playing chess and checkers, with mah jong as a popular pastime for women.

It is difficult to determine between a funeral procession and a wedding. Mourners are hired, and play such tunes as "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

The speaker displayed a set of Patron and Patroness Saints, lent by Mrs. William Trein, Mrs. Z. W. Moss exhibited and explained some of the Chinese articles collected during her travels abroad, including several pieces of embroidery.

FULL FLAVOR Cooking brings compliments galore!

PINEAPPLE FRITTERS
Fried the Spry FULL FLAVOR way

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 egg, beaten
⅓ cup milk
1 tablespoon Spry, melted
5 slices canned pineapple, drained and cut in quarters

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together. Combine egg and milk; add to dry ingredients, beating until smooth. Add Spry and mix well.

Dip pineapple pieces in batter and fry in deep hot Spry (375° F.) about 4 minutes. Test the fat (if you have no thermometer) with a 1-inch square of sliced bread and if it turns golden brown in 1 minute, the temperature is right for frying. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6.

REMEMBER: Spry is purer—does not smoke at proper frying temperatures. So don't wait for Spry to smoke before starting to fry.

(All measurements in this recipe are level)

NAVY RUSHES U-BOAT HUNT

Washington, Jan. 22—(AP)—The navy rushed its Atlantic submarine hunt today with the added responsibility of protecting sea lanes of the entire hemisphere, now united against the axis in a solid diplomatic front.

Early announcement of the intention of all American republics to break off relations with the axis powers raised the possibility that the considerable land and naval forces of South and Central America would be joined together to guard vital hemisphere commerce against any attack. New enemy submarine successes along the Atlantic coast demonstrated the urgent need of guarding ships until a mass convoy plan could be worked out.

The navy's disclosure that the 5,269-ton freighter City of Atlanta had been sunk and the 3,779-ton Latvian steamer Ciltvaira had been attacked and probably sunk brought to six the list of submarine victims in the six days from Jan. 14 through Jan. 19. Four of the six ships were known to have gone to the bottom, and the total of dead or missing crewmen rose to 75.

46 Seamen Missing

Attacked off the Carolina coast Monday, the City of Atlanta sank so fast there was no time to launch lifeboats. Later the same day, the Viltvaira, torpedoed amidships was abandoned by her crew in a flooded and sinking condition. Forty-six seamen were missing in the two attacks, which were announced as soon as the 33 survivors had reached port.

News that Argentina and Chile finally had swung into line with the 19 other American republics in a declaration of intention to sever diplomatic relations with the axis was received with relief in Washington.

Even the conditional nature of the Argentine and Chilean acceptances failed to dim the gratification of many in the Capital who had feared a less favorable outcome. They regarded the Chilean representative's reservation that his government would have to be consulted and the apparent Argentine insistence on ratification by the Argentine congress as not insurmountable barriers to a permanently unified diplomatic front.

On the military front, the Rio de Janeiro agreement gave new significance to the hemisphere war production plan disclosed in Washington yesterday, especially to its proposal for pooling of ships and joint convoys to protect them.

Addition to Marine Ships

Agentina, Brazil, Chile, Cuba, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela have merchant vessels totaling 1,198,566 tons to add to the United States merchant marine of 11,000,000 tons.

The Latin American countries could provide five battleships, ten cruisers, 29 destroyers and 20 submarines for any joint effort to keep the sea lanes open. In addition, the southern republics have many coastal patrol vessels and gunboats, and their naval and air base facilities would prove of great value in combined convoys.

Although none of the Latin American republics has a sizeable airforce, they have a combined total of more than 2,000,000 trained soldiers, including regulars and reserves.

The inter-American trade which the convoys would be organized to protect would involve shipment of needed raw materials to the United States and shipment to the Latin American countries of essential imports to meet defense requirements.

Predicts Jap Peace Move

Meanwhile Senator George (D-Ga) forecast today that the Japanese would try to effect peace with China if they succeeded in capturing Singapore and penetrating to Rangoon in Burma.

George, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, was nearly as pessimistic about British prospects in Malaya as Chairman Connally (D-Tex), who told a press conference yesterday that he feared Singapore eventually would fall.

Connally said this would be a serious military blow to the United Nations in the fight for control of the Far East and George added that such a disaster was almost sure to mean that the Japanese would throw their full strength against Burma in an effort to cut off the Burma road, chief Chinese supply line.

George said that Burma would be hard to defend if Singapore fell. A Japanese conquest of Burma, he continued, held the threat of a direct attack on India.

Successful defense of Rangoon, chief port for the Burma road, probably would lie in the massing of Chinese troops there with sufficient air power furnished by the United Nations, George declared.

He said that if the Japanese once were able to cut off the Burma road supplies, the Chinese would be in a difficult position where they might be much more susceptible to peace feelers.

Tokyo's approach to the Chinese, he went on, might be made on the basis that they ought to join the Japanese in taking all of Asia for the Asiatics.

George expressed confidence that the Chinese would stand fast against any such overtures, but he added that the possibility of such a move demonstrated the vital need for holding Singapore and keeping the Burma Road open.

Commenting on recent Russian successes, George said he had been informed that the British believed the Germans had lost 2,000,000 men killed or wounded since the war began, most of them in Russia. American estimates have been higher, placing the German losses at nearer 3,000,000 men, or about one third of their army, he added.

These casualties have been accompanied, he said, by tremendous losses in equipment in the retreat being carried out at the present time. Nevertheless, he continued, many military experts thought that the German army was far from whipped and would be able to rebound to the attack in the spring.

Bulletin, whose carriers sold more than a million dollars worth of stamps in the first seven weeks of the campaign.

Boys Make no Profit

No profit is derived by the carrier salesmen in their voluntary patriotic effort which is planned as their contribution to national defense. In appreciation of this patriotic effort, successful salesmen will receive commendation in the form of medals. A bronze shield will be awarded to the carrier selling 187 stamps; a silver bar will be added when his sales reach a total of 562 stamps; a gold bar when the sales reach 1,312 stamps and additional gold bars for sales of 750 stamps.

Telegraph readers will be approached Saturday when the carrier salesmen make their regular weekly collection calls, when subscribers may place their orders for a specified number of stamps weekly. The cooperating subscriber will be furnished a Defense Stamp album without charge and the stamps will be delivered on the following Saturday. The carriers will not carry the stamps with them during the week, but will fill orders on Saturdays only.

Trade Books for Bonds

In purchasing the ten cent Defense Stamps, the subscriber, when he has purchased a total of 187 stamps, and with the payment of five cents additional, may exchange the album for a $25 Defense Bond. The carrier salesmen may be quickly identified with the badge to be furnished them, identifying them as Official U. S. Defense agents. This identification assures the subscriber of the authenticity of the sales transaction. Readers of the Telegraph are urged to investigate the plan by carefully reading the full page ad in this issue and planning immediately regular weekly purchases of the Defense Stamps.

Olds said the commission's plans for power supply this year and next assume that approximately one half of all electricity needed for defense production shall come from curtailment of normal uses.

The power commission submitted an eight point program for development and conservation of power, including new installations and inter-connections, rehabilitation of mechanical equipment, maintenance of high water storage levels, pooling of power resources in areas to obtain maximum use of existing facilities, adpustment of loads and switching hours of operation.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation commitments for defense and war production, broken down by major categories, showed:

Defense Plant Corporation, for construction of plants and equipment, $2,657,722,964.

Defense Supplies Corporation, for acquisition and maintenance of a reserve of critical materials, $487,000,000.

Rubber Reserve Company, for purchase of crude rubber, $845,000,000.

Metals Reserve Company for purchase of such materials as aluminum, antimony, iron and lead, $1,041,000,000.

Defense Homes Corporation, for aid in production of defense housing, $17,834,000.

Other, including a $425,000,000 loan to Great Britain, $937,492,000.

Calls for $2,096,138,875

The $2,096,138,875 supply bill for independent agencies of the government in the next fiscal year carrying $984,410,800 for the shipbuilding program of the maritime commission went to the house today from its appropriations committee.

The total was about $5,000,000 less than President Roosevelt's budget recommendations and $1,257,899,349 under comparable appropriations for this fiscal year. But the committee said that subsequent supplemental funds probably would offset that apparent reduction.

The committee reported that on Jan. 1, the Maritime Commission had contracted for construction of 968 vessels and had made other awards for which contracts had not actually been let. Chairman Land of the Commission told the committee Dec. 9 that 999 ships had been contracted for and contracts would be let for 423 more before June 30.

Other major appropriations were: Tennessee Valley Authority, $136,100,000; Veterans Administration, $110,909,088; executive office of the president, $5,135,325, emergency funds of the president, $25,000,000; civil service retirement and disability fund, $105,258,000, and Public Roads Administration, $88,500,000.

The committee also approved $8,993,328 for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, an increase over the current fiscal year of $2,797,863, mostly for continued construction at the Moffett Field, Calif., laboratory and aircraft engine research at Cleveland, O.

For the Selective Service System, the committee allocated $34,745,000, an increase of $1,245,000 resulting from the new graduated recruitment program.

layan counter offensive yesterday. Two waves of RAF fighters swept over the area, followed by charging infantrymen.

In broad outline, the British strategy was to drive north against the main Japanese armies swarming down the Malay peninsula, temporarily ignoring smaller Japanese infiltration forces which had landed in the British rear, farther down on the west coast.

Widening of the war zone in the South Pacific was forecast in Melbourne in the wake of mass air attacks on allied islands off the Australian mainland. Rabaul, New Britain, was raided again.

Arthur Drakeford, Australian air minister, declared that the Japanese, backed by one or more aircraft carriers, were on the point of landing in New Guinea—perhaps today.

With the U. S. navy hunting submarines which have claimed six victims off the Atlantic coast in a week, it was pointed out in Washington that protecting the sea lanes of the entire hemisphere would be an added responsibility.

Simple Rites for Carole Lombard

Glendale, Calif., Jan. 22.—(AP)—Vivacious Carole Lombard, who loved life; welcomed it in its every aspect, was buried with brief, simple funeral services yesterday.

A prayer . . . A short eulogy . . . A poem . . . Organ music . . . Fewer than three score intimate friends in attendance.

That was all. That was the way the actress willed it. All except the eulogy. Friends insisted that the pastor, the Rev. Gordon C. Chapman of Westwood Hills Community Methodist church, read a short tribute they had prepared. Clark Gable, Miss Lombard's husband, consented.

Sharing in the simple services was Miss Lombard's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Peters. Mrs. Peters had been Carole's almost constant companion from the time she bore her in Fort Wayne, Ind., 32 years ago until they went to death together in a Transcontinental & Western airliner crash near Las Vegas, Nev., last Friday night.

Otto Winkler, Gable's publicity manager and close friend, another victim of the crash, will be buried late today.

Bodies of four others of the 22 crash victims were sent to relatives from Las Vegas yesterday.

case of the Argentine which, like the United States, has wheat, corn and meat surpluses.

Turning to the active war front, one of the bright spots for the allies in the generally gloomy picture in the Pacific areas is the announcement that British Hurricane fighting planes, which possess great fire power, have arrived in the Singapore region and are in action. Arrival of reinforcements is glad news, for the battle of the Pacific is turning on air power at this moment, and the Japanese have had things pretty much their own way thus far.

* * *

This move by the British should help dispel the erroneous idea which has grown that the allies are going to devote all their resources to beating Hitler and meantime let the Orient go by the board.

It is true that the allied high command considers the smashing of Hitler the paramount task, and doesn't intend to allow the Pacific show to distract attention from carrying it out. However, there has been very intention to send reinforcements and to put up as good a show as possible without letting Hitler run wild in Europe again.

If the allies have really strong air reinforcements on hand for the Pacific area it may rock the Japanese back on their heels, for much of their success thus far has been due to their control of the air.

Russian dispatches from the southwestern front—a term which might refer either to the Crimea or the Ukraine—reported that soviet cavalry and artillery had crushed a series of violent German counter-attacks.

Ashton Girl Is Wed at Rochelle

Nuptial high mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's Catholic church in Rochelle, Wednesday morning, for Miss Arletta Mae Lovell, a graduate of Ashton high school with the class of '41, and Edward F. Burken of Preston, Iowa, son of John Burken, Sr. of Preston. The Rev. Thomas O'Brien read the vows.

The bride, younger daughter of William Lovell, wore a princess gown of white satin. Her veil was held in place by seed pearls, and her arm bouquet contained roses, sweetpeas, and stevia, with florets knotted in the satin streamers.

Miss Catherine Burken came from Preston to be maid of honor for her brother's bride. She was dressed in blue taffeta. Miss Kathryn Lovell, sister of the bride, and Miss Katherine Gocken were bridesmaids. Their gowns of rose taffeta were also designed on princess lines. All three attendants carried roses and sweetpeas, with tiaras of sweetpeas in their hair.

Miss Phyllis Empen, niece of the groom, was flower girl. LeRoy Burken, his nephew, was ring bearer. John Burken of Preston was his brother's best man, and ushers were Zane Altenberg and Burnell Vogel.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's father and sister at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Bernard Empen. Blue and white appointments were used in the dining room. A miniature bride and groom topped the three-tiered wedding cake.

During the Japanese raid on the Philippines, Miss Ritson stated, 2,500 Girl Scouts and their leaders assisted with evacuation, first aid and kitchen aid, without a single casualty.

Recipe Demonstrated at Tuesday's Cooking School

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

1 cup milk, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 cake fresh yeast, 1 cup lukewarm water, 6 cups sifted flour, 6 tablespoons melted shortening.

Scald milk, add sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in luke warm water and add to luke warm milk. Add 3 cups flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add melted shortening and remaining flour, or enough to make easily handled dough. Knead well. Place in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Then punch dough down in bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover well and place in refrigerator. (Demonstration completed for baking rolls at fourth session.)

That American homemakers are increasingly conscious of their responsibility as builders of national health for defense is evidenced by the new trend of questions from alert cooking school audiences. Not in one community alone, not in one section of the land, but in cities from coast to coast, homemakers are thinking and talking and acting in terms of nutrition.

Cooking school always has been an opportunity, rather than a job, to your lecturer—an opportunity to meet thousands of representative women and to exchange ideas with them, to make many worthwhile friends and to demonstrate practical, efficient developments in modern homemaking.

Now, more than ever before, The Cooking School is important and necessary to the community, with its emphasis on proper cooking methods and well-balanced diet, for as federal authorities continually reiterate: Food is the front line of defense. One-half of the American adult population, surveys, show, have not learned that there is a connection between diet and health.

Determined to provide their families with a well-rounded diet twelve months in the year, homemakers who throng to standing-room-only Cooking Schools are seeking to extend their knowledge of vitamins and food combinations. They want to know precisely what constitutes an ideal balance for the "three a day."

* * *

The government itself has answered the latter problem, for the Federal Office of Defense, Health and Welfare Services declares that a sound foundation for buoyant health can be built with seven ordinary foods.

For daily reference, here are the wholesome seven, the first step in "The Three Golden Rules of Nutrition," as approved by outstanding nutrition authorities:

Milk, seafood, bread with adequate vitamins in it, fruit, meat, eggs and green vegetables.

Check-ups throughout the country show that an amazingly large percentage of children and adults are falling dangerously short of the daily quota of milk recommended for vigorous health. Many experts still consider one quart the ideal for children. The second Golden Rule leads off with "one pint or more of milk," for vitamins A and B, good proteins and plenty of calcium.

Golden Rule No. 2 continues: As far as you possibly can, see to it that every day, with the milk you eat at least:

Enriched bread or biscuits, or whole grain cereals, or whole-wheat bread; use enriched flour whenever you use white flour for cooking purposes—for B vitamins and minerals.

A tomato, an orange, a grapefruit, or their juices—for plenty of vitamin C.

A big helping of green leafy vegetables, and sometimes yellow ones, raw or lightly cooked—for more vitamin C, more vitamin A and minerals.

Eggs, or lean meat or seafood—to get more proteins, several B vitamins and iron.

An apple, a peach, a pear, or other fruits in season—for added minerals and vitamins.

* * *

The third and final Golden Rule of Nutrition is: Eat anything else you like, including the necessary fats, unless your doctor has advised a special diet. In other words, make sure of the good health essentials first, then round out your daily meals as desired. In this way, you will be getting a nutritionally adequate diet each day.

Not only is this nutritionally adequate daily diet linked with buoyant health, but it is directly related to national wartime production. A nation-wide survey, concluded in December, gave startling evidence of the importance of keeping the nation in top physical health, when it led off with this statement:

Throughout the United States as a whole, an estimated 24 million man-days of work were lost because of illnes in the four-week period November 24 to December 20. In industries connected directly or indirectly with war production, approximately 3,200,000 man-days of work were lost from illness in the same period.

The same survey revealed that the typical American family "consumes only one-half of the amount of milk per day recommended by the government."

Remember that earlier statement: One-half of the adult population has not learned that there is a connection between diet and health. Which half is your family listed in?

Today, as in past wars, food is writing history.

All-Bran Cherry Party Bread

Upside-down cake and pudding are known favorites. Now comes a "frosted" party bread that is colorful to look at, delicious to taste and wholesome for young and old. Melted butter, Maraschino cherries, brown sugar and nuts go into the bottom of a loaf pan, which then is filled up with the batter, containing more cherries and nuts plus bran. When baked, the top is magnificent to look at.

First part:
1 tablepspoon butter
¼ cup light brown sugar
2½ cups sifted flour
1-3 cup chopped Maraschino cherries
¼ cup chopped nuts

Batter:
2½ cups sifted flour
4½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 cup bran
1-3 cup chopped Maraschino cherries
¼ cup chopped nuts

x Melt butter in loaf pan and sprinkle sugar, cherries and nutmeats evenly over bottom of pan.

Sift flour with baking powder, sugar and salt. Beat egg, add milk and shortening; stir into flour mixture. Add bran, cherries and nuts. Mix evenly and pour over cherry mixture.

Bake 1 hour in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. Remove at once from pan. Cool before slicing. Yields 1 loaf, using 5¼ x 9½ inch pan.

Note:: x Loaf may be baked omitting cherry nut mixture in bottom of pan.

Drop Cookies

¼ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
2-3 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3 bananas)
Sugar and cinnamon

Use ripe bananas—yellow peel flecked with brown. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat softening until creamy. Add sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until fluffy. Stir in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas, beating after each addition until smooth

Drop by teaspoonfuls on ungreased pan about 1½ inches apart. Sprinkle with sugar, or a mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Bake about 12 minutes in a moderately hot oven 400 degrees F. or until cookies are done. Remove baked cookies from pans at once. Yields about 2½ to 3 dozen cookies.

Salad Surprise for Six

1 grapefruit
Lettuce
Chicory
1 1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce
French dressing

Peel and section grapefruit. Chill. Cut cranberry sauce in half-inch slices. Cut in any shape desired with assorted cookie cutters. A star shape is effective. Arrange a cranberry star with 3 grapefruit sections on beds of crisp greens, to give the effect of a star with "rays." Serve with dressing.

Parsley Carrots

8 medium-sized carrots
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons minced parsley

Cook carrots quickly in minimum of water, adding salt just before they are tender. (Covered saucepans speeds cooking time and reduces amount of water required.) Drain, reserving pot liquor for vegetable cocktails, stews or soup. Add butter to drained carrots in pan. Gently turn carrots in butter as it melts, until they are well buttered. Sprinkle generously with minced parsley. Serves 6.

Date Paste

½ cup figs
1 cup seeded raisins
2 cups pasteurized dates
¼ cup nut meats
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup orange juice

Put fruits and nuts through food chopper or chop very fine with knife. Add salt and spices and mix well. Moisten with orange juice. Roll out in a sheet ¼ inch thick. Cut into squares, diamonds or fancy shapes with cutters. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Yields: 30 pieces.

Pear-Grapefruit Cup

Combine 1½ cups each diced, canned or fresh pears and diced canned or fresh grapefruit segments. Chill thoroughly. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons finely chopped mint at serving time. If desired, add a few drops lemon juice.

Banana Apple Scallop

2 tart apples, peeled
3 firm bananas, peeled
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
3 cups soft bread crumbs
3 tablespoons melted butter

Use all-yellow bananas. Slice apples and cut bananas into ½ inch pieces. Combine fruit, sugar, cinnamon and salt. Mix bread crumbs with butter. Place alternate layers of crumbs and fruit in a well-buttered baking dish, using crumbs for top and bottom layers.

Cover baking dish and bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven 375 degrees F. or until the apples are tender. Uncover. Bake 5 minutes more to brown crumbs. Serves 6. Serve hot with plain or whipped cream, fruit sauce or custard.

WINTRY COMBINATION
Boston Baked Beans

1 quart navy beans
¾ pound salt pork
1 tablespoon salt
½ cup molasses
3 tablespoons sugar (to taste)
Boiling water

Pick over beans, cover with cold water, and soak overnight. Drain, cover with fresh water and cook over very low heat until skins will burst when blown upon. Drain beans, scald pork, scrape, remove ¼ inch slice and place in bottom of bean pot or deep casserole. Cut through rind of remaining pork every half inch, making cuts 1 inch deep. Place beans in pot and bury pork in beans, leaving rind exposed. Mix salt, molasses and sugar add 1 cup boiling water and pour over beans; add enough more boiling water to cover beans. Cover container and bake 6 to 8 hours in very slow oven 275 degrees F., uncovering during the last hour of cooking. Add water as needed. This quantity will serve 12.

Steamed Brown Bread

1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup cornmeal
1 cup sifted white flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup raisins
½ cup New Orleans molasses
2 teaspoons melted shortening
2 cups sour milk or buttermilk

Mix and sift dry ingredients; add raisins, molasses, shortening and milk. Mix thoroughly and half-fill greased cans or molds which have tight covers. Cover top of each can with waxed paper and adjust covers. Steam 3 hours. This quantity will fill two 1-pound cans.

FOOD APPETIZERS

Grate Florida orange rind into chocolate cake or waffle batter for a pick-up flavor.

Bay leaf crowns the stuffing with glory. Some like raisins in stuffing. Do you?

Casseroles take to this topping: Mix all-bran with a little melted butter and sprinkle generously over the top of the casserole before baking. Gives a crispy top with added nourishment.

Quick, economical and wholesome is this dessert made from 6 bananas, 2 cups whipped cream and 1 tablespoon sugar. Mash the bananas through a sieve. Then fold in the stiffly-beaten cream, to which the sugar has been added. Heap in sherbet glasses, sprinkling nutmeg on each serving. Or flavor with a bit of grated lemon and a few drops of lemon juice. Serves 6.

Parsley, watercress and spinach are almost in the championship rating of vitamin A, and they contain other vitamins. Lettuce, escarole and romaine are not far behind. Once again comes the caution to salad makers not to discard the dark green outer leaves of these precious foods, since they are about 30 times as rich in vitamin A as the delicate, blanched inner leaves. For variety, add a little sharp English mustard to French dressing. Try crumbling sharp cheese or Roquefort cheese in your favorite dressing. Crumbles of crispy bacon are a happy surprise in salads.

Use lower temperatures for foods baked in glassware. Glass dishes absorb heat so efficiently that extreme temperatures should be avoided.

Squaw Corn

1-2 pound bacon
2 1-2 cups whole kernel corn (1 No. 2 can)
2 1-2 cups cream style corn (1 No. 2 can)
1 egg, well beaten
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Reserve five strips of bacon for top decoration. Cut remainder into small pieces and saute until golden brown over low heat. Drain whole kernel corn. Place corn, well-beaten egg, and parsley in well-greased 1½ quart glass casserole. Add bacon and about half the grease. Mix all ingredients throughly. Place remaining bacon strips across the top and bake, uncovered, about 35 minutes in a hot oven 415 degrees F. Remove, decorate with parsley and serve directly from glass casserole.

Corn Bread

1 cup corn meal
1 cup sifted flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted butter

Sift dry ingredients together. Beat egg, add milk and melted butter the two mixtures and pour into well-greased pie plate. Bake 40 minutes in moderately slow oven 325 degrees F. When this delicious corn bread is baked in glass, the dish may be taken directly to the dinner table, when wedge-shaped pieces may be cut desired. When served, quick breads should be "hot enough to melt the butter."

Lee County Will Have To Do With Fewer Auto Tires

County Allotments for February Announced by State Director

Chicago, Jan. 22—(AP)—Illinois will have to get along with fewer tires in February than it did this month.

Henry Pope, Jr., tire rationing administrator of the Illinois State Council of Defense, announced yesterday the February ration of tires to Illinois motorists and truckers was 12,661 compared with the January alotment of 17,875.

Broken down, Illinois was allotted 4,274 passenger car tires compared with 5,320 this month, and 8,837 truck tires compared with the January quota of 12,555.

Pope said the quota allowed fewer passenger car tubes but a decided increase in truck tubes—3,578 and 14,383, respectively, for a total of 17,961. This compared with a January quota of 4,453 and 10,496, respectively, for a total of 14,949.

No explanation of the smaller quotas came from Washington and federal authorities here offered no reason other than the decreases, in part, were because February is the shortest month.

Quotas Not Exhausted

Pope, however, said virtually none of the 109 tire rationing boards under his jurisdiction, outside the metropolitan area, had exhausted its January quota.

"Public acceptance of the necessity for tire rationing has made the January record possible", he said. "There can be no successful rationing without public cooperation and we are greatly pleased by the public's splendid attitude".

Decreases and increases for January over January by percentages are as folows:

All tires, 29.16 decrease; all tubes, 20.48 increase; passenger tires, 19.81 less; truck tires, 33.19 less; passenger tubes, 19.65 less; truck tubes, 37.04 more.

The quotas for February by counties include:

County Allotments

Lee: February — passenger tires, 22; passenger tubes, 19; truck tires, 62; truck tubes 105. January—passenger tires, 28; passenger tires, 28; passenger tubes, 23; truck tires, 99; truck tubes, 77.

Ogle: February — passenger tires, 22; passenger tubes, 19; truck tires, 51; truck tubes, 87. January—passenger tires, 28; passenger tubes, 23; truck tires, 76; truck tubes, 64.

Stephenson: February—passenger tires, 28; passenger tubes, 24; truck tires, 67; truck tubes, 115. January—passenger tires, 35; passenger tubes, 29; truck tires, 100; truck tubes, 84.

Whiteside: February—passenger tires, 32; passenger tubes, 27; truck tires, 64; truck tubes, 110. January—passenger tires, 40; passenger tubes, 33; truck tires, 96; truck tubes, 80.

Tom Stokes, Formerly of Dixon, Becoming Successful Rancher

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beard are the proud recipients of a gracious sample of the efforts of Tom Stokes, a former well known Dixonite, who a few weeks ago began enjoying the first fruits from his ranch located at Oceanside near San Diego, Cal. The generous sample to his Dixon friends can be viewed from the display window at the Kathryn Beard Shop. Tom, who has retired from active life, now enjoys the fruits of his hobby, a citrus ranch. He is also experimenting in the growth of battery chickens and is meeting with marked success in both ventures, those who have visited his ranch report. Included in the first sampler to be sent from Rancho Stokeo are to be found, huge oranges, tangerines, grape fruit, limes, lemons, avocado pears and pomegranates.

Delay in Completing Sheridan School Is Subject Examination

Chicago, Jan. 22—(AP)—A special legislative committee began an official inquiry today into delays which have prevented opening of the Sheridan branch of the Illinois state training school for boys.

The committee, which supervised construction of the $200,000 prison where incorrigibles will be sent from the main school near St. Charles, is headed by State Senator Thomas P. Gunning (R-Princeton). State Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon and Russell W. Ballard, new managing officer of the school near St. Charles, planned to attend the meeting.

The Sheridan branch, virtually completed last summer, was to have been opened in fall, but in September no furniture for the school had been bought, because, according to Brandon, the building had not been turned over formally to the department of welfare.

Japanese Attack on Pearl Harbor Called "Bad Job"

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 22—(AP)—The attack on Pearl Harbor, considering the Japanese advantage of surprise and air power, was described as a ludicrously "bad job" today by Elmer Renken, veteran gunner's mate from Alton, Ill.

Renken suffered 15 wounds and severe burns in the engagement and was one of the two members of a 12 man crew to survive damage from a 1,000 pound bomb.

Renken, a veteran of 15 years service in the navy, discounted his performance in an interview at the Naval Hospital to tell of the "mere youngsters who proved in the attack that they were men."

"They leaned outside the gun casement, looked up at the Jap planes and shook their fists at them—daring them to come in and fight," Renken recounted. "Then, actually laughing, the kids went on banging away. We're proud of the youngsters in the fleet.

Renken and others who participated in the Dec. 7 attack didn't have much respect for Japanese marksmanship.

"Considering the great advantage they had through surprise and air-power, they did a bad job if it," said Renken. "At the time a stream of bombers came over and seven high explosives were dropped in perfect alignment. The string hit about 40 feet away from the ship.

Laughed at Planes

"You would have thought the boys were watching a good movie comedy because they just looked at the disappearing Jap planes and laughed."

Renken said even before the general alarm sounded, one youth had manned a machine gun and two minutes later had knocked down an enemy plane.

The rangy gunner was getting dressed preparatory to going on liberty when the first Japanese plane soared into view.

"While the alarm had not been sounded yet, every gun was manned immediately," he said. "We were short two men in our five inch gun crew, but a Negro and a Filipino—both of them mess attendants—stepped into their places.

"It was primarily a job for anti-aircraft and machine guns, because our gun is for use in combat with surface craft. At that, we managed to dust off two Japs ourselves, both of them torpedo planes. Altogether our ship was credited with nine Jap planes downed.

"In all my years in the navy, I've never seen guns fired so rapidly and efficiently as they were during that hour and 45 minutes of action."

After the business meeting installation of officers took place as follows: President, Mary Baker; senior vice president, Ora Conderman; junior vice president, Elsie Jones; secretary, Millie Berkly; treasurer, Mae Thompson; chaplain, Mary Phillips; conductress, Temperance Tilton; guard, Catherine Heckman; musician, Genevieve Holt; patriotic instructor, Lena Bowers; assistant conductor, Margaret Rhinehold; assistant guard, Mary Jones; color bearers, Susan Straussberg, Augusta Gewecke, Alma Haus, Lucy Van Natta. Mrs. Nettie Virgil acted as installing officer, Mrs. Tilton as conductor. The meeting closed by giving the salute to the flag, the singing of America and the furling of the colors. The next meeting will be held Feb. 7.

Relative of Dixon Men, Feared Lost, Rescued Yesterday

News dispatches received here late yesterday told of the rescue of Lieut. William Sutherland of Normal, Ill., relative of Charles and Ward Miller of this city, who with his crew of six had been adrift for one week in southern waters. Lieut. Sutherland, former all star athlete of Normal, and his crew aboard a navy bombing plane, were forced down by motor trouble more than a week ago. He has been located in the Panama Canal Zone and relatives of the crew members received only the bare word of their being missing.

The genius of the crew members resulted in their rescue yesterday after being adrift for seven and a half days. The men were reported to have lost 12 to 18 pounds each but were in good physical condition when located. Lieut. Sutherland praised two of his crew members who patched together a workable radio from scraps of wiring and established communication which led to their rescue.

Two members of the crew kept the plane afloat by taking turns at bailing out the water, while two others distilled drinking water from the sea, which they accomplished by making over a windshield water pump. By this method they were able to distill water sufficient to permit each member of the crew about three-quarters of a pint daily. From day to day they calculated their position by weather reports intercepted by their makeshift radio and by the time of the sunrise and sunset. Canal Zone naval officials declared that the rescue of the bomber crew resulted solely from their heroic efforts.

How to make Pillsbury's Prune-Filled Coffee Cake

In good taste morning, noon, or night!

Complete recipe:

1. Sift and measure 2 c. Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour. (Two B-vitamins and iron are added to this fine flour, with no change in flavor, color, or baking quality.) Add 3 tsps. baking powder (or 2 tsps. double-acting), ½ tsp. salt, and ¼ c. sugar; sift twice. (The rich creamy-white color you see in Pillsbury's Best is insured by hourly tests during milling.) 2. Cut in ¼ c. shortening until quite fine. 3. Add enough milk to 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, to measure about ¾ c. Add to dry ingredients; mix only until all flour is dampened. 4. Knead lightly on a floured board a few seconds. (And be ready for a perfect Coffee Cake! For you're using the BAKE-PROVED flour, the flour that's tested by actual baking 4 to 6 times a day during milling!) 5. Roll out into 12 x 10-in. rectangle. Brush with melted butter; spread with this filling: 6. Combine ¾ c. chopped cooked prunes, ½ c. raisins, ⅓ c. chopped dried apricots, dash of salt, ⅓ c. water, ⅓ c. sugar and ¾ tsp. cinnamon in saucepan. Cook until thick. Chill thoroughly. 7. Spread ½ of filling on center ⅓ of dough. Overlap ⅓ of dough on filling. Spread with rest of filling. Overlap remaining ⅓ of dough. Moisten edges and seal. 8. Place on greased baking sheet. Make 1-in. diagonal gashes on both sides of loaf 1½ in. apart. 9. Gently tilt each cut section at a slight angle. 10. Brush with 1 egg white, unbeaten, combined with 2 tsps. water. Sprinkle with 1 Tbsp. sugar combined with ¼ tsp. cinnamon and ¼ c. chopped blanched almonds. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 20 min. This delicious Pillsbury coffee cake can be baked quickly—there's no waiting for dough to rise. Why not get a bag of Pillsbury's Best from your grocer and bake a delicious Prune-Filled Coffee Cake this very day!

State's Basketball Madness Achieves Peak This Winter

Citizens of Illinois Take Game Seriously as Season Moves On

By PAT HARMON
(Written for The Associated Press)

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Illinois' annual basketball madness, now at its midseason climax, has achieved new heights this winter. The citizens of this state now take their high school basketball so seriously that Illinois may be regarded as a challenger to Indiana for the title of the nation's basketball capital.

The first half of the 1941-42 season has been noteworthy not alone for the dozens of good teams but also for the goofy incidents accompanying almost every one of the important games.

The height of basketball daffiness is currently described as Eddelmania. It is characterized by such morning-after habits as asking the question, "How many points did he make last night?"

This special form of dementia praecox is a tribute to Dwight Eddleman of Centralia, the greatest name in Illinois prep basketball today. For the second consecutive year, Eddlema has a scoring average hovering around 20 points per game. If he makes the All-State team this year, he will have done it three years running—a feat matched by only one other athlete in state basketball history, Lou Boudreau of Thornton high school, 1933-34-35.

Matches Spurgeon's Work

Eddleman has already matched the record of one of the state's super-athletes of an earlier era, Lowell Spurgeon. Like Eddleman, Spurgeon came from Centralia high school and like Eddleman he was All-State in football, basketball and track. Spurgeon's great year was 1934, and between that period and Eddleman's ascendancy in 1941, no other athlete ever made All-State in the three major sports. The closest approach to these two Centralia wonders was Tom Smerdel of Danville, who in 1940 became All-State in wrestling, football and track.

Some of the stories about Eddleman will remain as legends. When Mark Peterman, Springfield coach, announced his schedule, he said, "We play one game at Eddlemanville, Ill., their gym is located in Centralia".

When Greenville, O., toured here recently, playing four games in four nights, the team was scheduled to play at Salem, near Centralia. But the boys asked the coach for a night off that they might go see Eddleman. Was he boy or myth?

Is Nationally Known

George Wilt, the coach of Muncie, Pa., recently said the object of greatest interest among his own basketball players was the fabulous Eddleman. It is almost unfair to classify him as a state figure; he is so national that the sports editor of a New York newspaper went down into southern Illinois one night to do a piece on the boy wonder.

When Centralia and Eddleman played in Paris, Coach Arthur L. Trout became so exasperated at the riding his star was getting he went to the dressing room for a miniature saddle to mount on the back of No. 40. Trout's minion couldn't get into the dressing room to secure the saddle because of the crowd, but the saddle is still a good trick and Trout may offer it to the next rough foe.

Paris was also the scene of a game with Morton last week, and the home folks were so excited over the prospect of playing the state champions they assembled at the box office at 3 p. m., five hours before the game.

Eddleman is also the subject of controversy. Coach J. Doxie Moore of Mt. Vernon recently said he considered a certain Jack Eadie of West Frankfort the best basketball player in southern Illinois. "And I don't bar Eddleman", he said. That statement has all the Eddlemaniacs up in arms.

This goes on for weeks...until the state tournament ends March 22. Right now the ten best basketball teams in Illinois are (1) Paris, (2) Streator, (3) Morton of Cicero, (4) Johnston City, (5-6) West Frankfort, (5-6) Mt. Vernon, (7) Waterman, (8) Decatur, (9) Thornton of Harvey, and (10) Wood River.

Northwestern and Chicago Continue in Losing Streaks

Wildcats Drop Second Game of Season to Notre Dame Five

Chicago, Jan. 22—(AP)—Right now the two Big Ten teams most sadly in need of a cure for basketball losing streaks are Northwestern and Chicago.

Northwestern failed to shake its slump at Notre Dame last night and few are expecting Chicago to break its 10 game string tonight against the hot shooting Great Lakes team. The naval station's only loss against Big Ten opposition has been to Ohio State. The Sailors have defeated Purdue, Indiana and Northwestern.

Northwestern never could keep pace with Notre Dame last night after the first five minutes and lost a return match, 61 to 43, the first time in four years the two rivals have not split season's honors. The one bright spot in the Wildcats' fifth straight setback was the return of sophomore Otto Graham to scoring form. He got 18 points.

Other Action Last Eve

Other action last night brought about Millikin's first defeat in Illinois College conference play. The Blue lost 50 to 33 to Illinois College, which gained a first place tie with Milikin as a result of the win. Each have won three and lost one.

In another conference game, Bradley got going after a close first half and turned back Illinois Wesleyan, 59 to 44, aided by Paul McCall's 24 points. It was Bradley's 36th straight conference basketball triumph.

Chanute Field lost its second game in 12 starts in bowing to the rangy Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., 43 to 29. Shurtleff nosed out Eureka, 32 to 31, in another contest.

Tonight's schedule, in addition to the Great Lakes-Chicago game, sends the Mexico City YMCA team to Eastern Illinois Teachers. Chicago Teachers to northern Illinois Teachers, Grand Rapids to Illinois Tech and Ft. Sheridan to Glencoe for a battle with the Naval Air School of Glenview.

Commissioners Think Racing Must Continue

Miami, Fla., Jan. 22—(AP)—The nation's racing commissioners urged today that the sport of kings be continued for the duration of the war as a morale measure and as a means of providing employment for thousands of people "who could do nothing else".

As the National Association of State Racing Commissioners opened its first war-time convention here, President Beverley Broun of West Virginia declared "racing as a sport means much to hundreds of thousands who have no other recreation, and we sincerely believe the continuance of the various meetings will be a real contribution to national morale".

"The closing of Santa Anita track was perfectly justified, of course", he added, "even though it meant the loss of employment to some 1,200 people who could do nothing else because they had no knowledge of anything except racing. But we do believe that since racing has such a definite recreational value it can be continued despite the war".

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)

New York, Jan. 22—(Wide World)—Jack Dempsey shouldn't have much trouble with his new duties as aide de camp to Major General William Ottman of the New York State Guard . . . Jack has has plenty of experience as aide de fight camp— which required him to keep from laughing while he said so-and-so had a good chance against Joe Louis. Ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker presented the Eddie Neil Memorial trophy to Joe Louis at the Boxing Writers' dinner last night, but it might have been more appropriate if he had delegated the job to Quent Reynolds, who followed Eddie's footsteps from sports to war reporting.

Today's Guest Star—

Bob Gebbie, Watertown (S.D.) Public Opinion: "If your congressmen do nothing else, by passing the daylight saving time bill they have earned the votes of sleep-loving nimrods. . . Because duck shooting starts at sunrise, hunters will get an extra hour's sleep next fall".

Service Dept.—

One of Bob Feller's first acts after reporting at the Norfolk naval training station was to join Chief Gary Bodie's basketball squad for a workout. He's not a candidate for the team . . . Best wishes go with Jay Simon, sports editor of the Coffeyville (Kans.) Journal, who gets his uniform at Fort Leavenworth next week; Jim Decker, the Syracuse U. tub thumper, who has joined the navy; fight managers Joe Vella (Gus Lesnevich) and Jimmy White (Aaron Seltzer), who are rejoining the army after having been discharged under the 28-year age limit.

Red Faces Roundup—

Big town fight experts aren't saying much about the results of Frank Menke's predicting contest on the Louis-Baer fight . . , Out of 780 contestants, the only guys who picked Louis in the first round were John Rhodes, Winchester, Va., Evening's Star; Bud Cornish, Portland, Me., Press Herald; and Francis Hale, Parkersburg, W. Va., sentinel.

Cleaning the cuff—

With subs off the coast and priorities on the airlines, sports writers are wondering how they'll cover the Dodgers' training camp at Havana. They might just go to Key West and listen . . . Wrestlers are being used in England to train parachute troops. . . The theory is that they are best fitted to teach the soldiers how to absorb heavy bumps.

Nine Indoor Track Meets for Illinois

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—Nine indoor track meets have been approved for the 1942 University of Illinois team. They include the Butler, Armour and Chicago relays. The Illini's own relays have been postponed for the duration of the emergency.

The schedule:

Feb. 3—Butler at Illinois.

Feb. 7—Michigan State at Illinois.

Feb. 14—Notre Dame at Illinois.

Feb. 21—Indiana at Illinois.

Feb. 28—Illinois at Ohio State.

March 6-7—Big Ten meet at Chicago.

March 13-14—Armour relays at Chicago.

March 13-14—Butler relays at Indianapolis.

March 21—Chicago relays.

Ray Hicks, Harmon, Goes Into Finals in Golden Gloves

Stops Stockton Boy in the Second Round of Bout At Sterling

Sterling, Jan. 22.—Ray Hicks, 126-pound Harmon boxer, won his way to this evening's championship bout in that class by scoring a technical knockout over Andrew Dixon of the Stockton CCC in last evening's Golden Gloves fights at Sterling. His opponent tonight will be Mickie Grothe. Last night Dixon took a bad beating from Hicks in the first round and was unable to weather the barrage of leather that Hicks tossed at him in the second frame.

Holy Steals Show

Another fighter who caught the fancy of the crowd of around 500 last night was Lyle Holy, a Sterling high school boy. Holy, fighting his first bout, entered the 135-pound novice class and in one of the best fights of the night won a split decision over Barney Marshall of Dixon. The pair fought toe to toe most of the way. Holy will meet Charles Watkins of Walnut in the finals tonight. Watkins, who stopped Powell of Stockton in one of the earlier bouts came back later to score another technical knockout over George Kemp of Stockton. Kemp, after taking a shellacking the first round, was unable to answer the bell for the second.

In a 147-pound novice bout Dale Rennard, Walnut won by a technical knockout over John Phelps, Stockton, in the second round. In that round Phelps hit Rennard with a blow that Referee Mickey Eberhardt ruled too low. He ordered a three minute rest for Rennard but Phelps refused to stay in the ring. In a 160-pound novice battle Robert Lewis of Galesburg won the decision over Johnny George of Stockton.

Sloan Beats Conway

In the 126-pound novice class Bobby Sloan, Galesburg, defeated Jimmy Conway, Stockton CCC in three rounds. Conway won the first round with Sloan taking the second and then finishing fast in the last round to grab off the decision.

In another 126-pound novice bout Robert Conrady, Kewanee, scored a technical knockout over Charles White, Stockton CCC, in 53 seconds of the first round. White injured his arm. In the third 120-pound novice bout Jimmy Harris, Stockton CCC, won the decision over Gene Crawford, Galesburg.

In a 135-pound novice bout George Kemp, Stockton CCC, won a split decision over Carl Russell of Galesburg, a decision that was received with mixed cheers and boos.

Charles Watkins, Walnut, scored a technical knockout over Henry Powell, Stockton CCC, in 1:43 of the second round. After a fairly close first round Watkins caught Powell with a hard punch in the second stanza that had the Stockton CCC battler helpless.

Sport Shorts

On Sunday, Feb. 1, the Rockford Ski club will hold its 14th annual jumping tournament at its huge steel slide southeast of New Milford, a village six miles south of the city. Nearly 100 outstanding skiers of the middle west, including many from northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin, will compete for honors in the various classes as well as the senior division for skiers 32 years old and older. Preliminaries will start at 1:30 with the championship competition at 2 o'clock.

The fourth annual International Sportsmen's show will open at the International Amphitheater in Chicago on February 21 and continue for nine days, it was announced here today. A large number from Dixon and vicinity have attended this event in recent years. The major theme of this year's show will be the huge outdoors show, a graphic portrayal of the part the U. S. sports world can play in the nation's war effort.

Features of the show will be daily competitions in archery, horseshoe pitching, rifle shooting, log rolling, canoe tilting, bait and fly casting and table tennis. Indian ceremonials, demonstrations by trained English Springer Spaniel hunting dogs, and trick performances by trained seals and the nation's only trained buffalo will also highlight the show.

Golf Association Is Planning Great 'Hale America' Tournament

New York, Jan. 22—(AP)—Its major championships shelved by the war, the United States Golf Association went to work today on a tournament designed to furnish competition for many golfers, entertainment for many fans, and relief for many of the conflict's innocent victims.

The tournament will be named the "Hale American" open. It will be 72 holes of medal play, staged on a Chicago course June 18-21—the dates originally set for the national open at Minneapolis.

Earlier this month, the U. S. G. A. called off the open, as well as the national amateur, the women's amateur and the national public links tourney, in order to focus its attention on the nation's war effort.

Preliminary plans for the "Hale America" event call for a series of district and sectional qualifying tests, dividing the nationwide program into three stages which may touch 70 or more cities.

Not only will the tournament and its qualifying eliminations raise money for war relief, but the whole show is planned to further the physical fitness program sponsored by the office of civilian defense.

Division of Highways Sets Speed Limit for All of Its Equipment

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—The state highway division today set maximum speed limits for operation of its automotive equipment in a move to prolong the usefulness of motor vehicles and tires.

M. J. Fleming, acting chief highway engineer, said the order limited the division's passenger cars to 50 miles an hour and the truck maximum 40 miles.

In the order, bureau heads were authorized to set lower speed limits for old equipment. Violation of the order, Fleming said, will subject offending employes to disciplinary action.

Hoppe Takes Lead, Sets New Record in Billiards Meet

Veteran Champion To Meet Mexican Star in Night's Play

Chicago, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Chalk up another record for Willie Hoppe, the man whose name has been synonymous with billiards for more than 40 years.

And if running up a 27-0 lead last night before his opponent could score is an omen of things to come, chalk up another world three-cushion title—Hoppe's third in a row.

Since the tournament is scheduled to close tomorrow night, many things might have led to his record achievement against the veteran Jake Schaefer last night.

Anyway, the 53-year-old Hoppe stunned Schaefer and spectators alike by forcing an intermission call in 14 innings. He got the required 25 points in that time despite three blank frames. Schaefer, runner up to Hoppe in the last two tournaments, meantime had none.

Schaeffer Finally Clicks

The first inning after the intermission Hoppe made it 27. Schaefer finally clicked in the same frame and played on virtually even terms the last half of the match, which went 41 innings before Hoppe clinched the decision, 50 to 23.

The victory was good for the undisputed lead when Joe Chamaco of Mexico City bowed to Welker Cochran. Forced to quit play Tuesday because of a stomach ailment, Cochran came back "feeling fine," and showed it in stopping Chamaco, 50 to 35 in 39 innings.

While Chamaco's title chances thus were jolted, he has a chance to tie up the lead again tonight when he will oppose Hoppe. Cochran, too, remains a title threat, since he has lost only one game.

The rest of the schedule brought together Ralph Greenleaf and Art Thurnbald in one afternoon match and Earle Lookabaugh and John Fitzpatrick in another. All are out of the title running.

Tunney Says Joe Louis Is Probably Best Fighter Ever

By SID FEDER

New York, Jan. 22.—(AP)—A fellow who would be inclined to look lightly upon the stunt of an army bomber making a three-point landing on the tower of the Empire State building pointed to Joe Louis today as probably the greatest fighter who ever lived.

This overcautious individual is none other than your old pal Gene Joseph Tunney, who retired undefeated as heavyweight champion.

The occasion for his sudden discovery of Louis as a pretty fair country beak-buster, after seven years of varying degrees of poohpoohing the Bown Bomber, came last night at the annual dinner of the Boxing Whiters Association of New York. At this clambake, Louis received not only the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque as the man who did the most for boxing in 1941, but also the Ring Magazine merit award as the fighter of the year.

What is more remarkable about Gene Joseph's song of praise was that Gene Joseph himself was among the reward receivers. He got a special trophy from the boxing writers for his services as head man of the Navy's fistic follies collection.

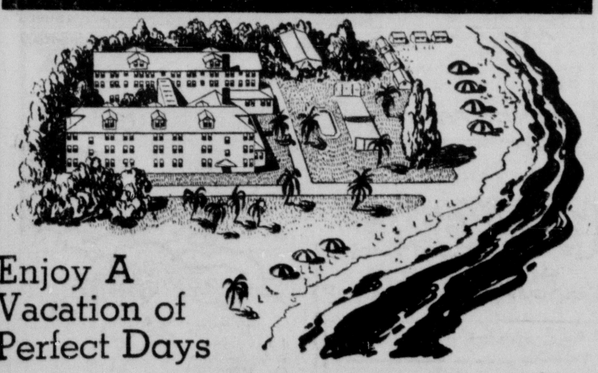

Illinois Catholic H. S. Tourney Is Off

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—The Illinois Catholic High School Association's 14th annual state basketball tournament, scheduled to open at Springfield, Jan. 30, was called off today.

Martin W. Heinen of Quincy, secretary of the association said that closing of armories to basketball inability to secure a suitable alternate site for the duration of the tournament and difficulties faced by those schools relying on automobiles for transportation were major factors in the decision.

Originally, tin cans were called "tin canisters," but early-day bookkeepers abbreviated the name to conserve space.

Hospital Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill., Jan. 20, 1942.

What Spanish war comrade of mine that mailed to me several copies of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, sure has my many thanks. When reading all of them, sure thought I was back in good old Dixon where I have many, many friends and good comrades of '98 to '02.

Have excellent treatment here, good food and a good bed. Also am getting better in every way every day.

I have a National Defense Stamp album almost filled for a National Defense bond, that will help spank the pants off the Japs, Hitler and Mussolini, and make these gangsters like it. They asked for it and Uncle Sammie can give it to them. When Uncle Sammie gets through licking Japan, there will not be any Japs left and Hitler, like the Kaiser, will be in exile and "Mussy" will be a back number. Yours truly, Joseph Robinson.

New Labor Crisis at Hand for City of Detroit Today

Detroit, Jan. 22—(AP)—A labor crisis, the first in five months, was at hand again today for the City of Detroit, vital producer of the tools of war.

Only hours distant was a final verdict by a union of city employes whether to go out on its announced strike at 4 a. m. tomorrow, a move which might cripple the productive capacities of this great factory center.

Faced with the city council's flat rejection of its wage increase demand, the City Employees Union (AFL) intended to meet tonight to frame its answer. On the decision may rest the opportunity for thousands of defense workers to go to their jobs.

Leaders of the union, which demands a 15 per cent flat wage increase, claimed that a strike would pull out 15,000 of the city's 37,000 employes, and a tieup of the city's transportation system was feared.

Donald V. Addy, city budget director, said wages ranged from $900 for messengers to $3,300 for head clerks among salaried employes and that hourly pay rates for unskilled labor ranged from 65 cents to 30 cents.

Second Union May Join

A second AFL union, the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, took a stand that if picket lines were thrown around transportation system property they would be respected. This union also has been seeking a wage boost.

Last August a strike crippled the transportation system for five days.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, however, held out hope that there would be no strike.

"I won't believe", he said, "that a handful of people can make such a serious mistake until I see it".

White, the combination of the seven original colors, is the symbol of power, divine wisdom, innocence, purity and chastity.

White Sox Cool to Wrigley's Desire to Rent Comiskey Park

Chicago, Jan. 22.—(AP)—The White Sox's cool reception to the Cubs' proposal to play night games under the lights of Comiskey Park left the north siders very much in the dark today.

Harry Grabiner, Sox vice president, and even William Harridge, president of the American League, gave the subject a little thought and concluded that more night games would be a good idea—for the Sox.

There was little in their reaction to encourage P. K. Wrigley, president of the Cubs, who had suggested that since President Roosevelt favored more night games and Wrigley field had no lighting plant, it would be nice to play a few games at the home of the White Sox.

Wrigley said the Sox' attitude did not surprise him and "perhaps I don't blame them," but added: "Competition in industry and conduct of sports have little place in the current crisis."

Just what the major leagues will do about increasing night games in 1942 will be decided at a joint meeting in New York Feb. 3.

State Found Jobs for 250,000 Workers in '41

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22—(AP)—State Labor Director Francis B. Murphy announced today that the state division of placempent and unemployment compensation found jobs for more than 250,000 Illinois workers during 1941.

Unemployment compensation benefits of $28,000,000 were awarded during the year.

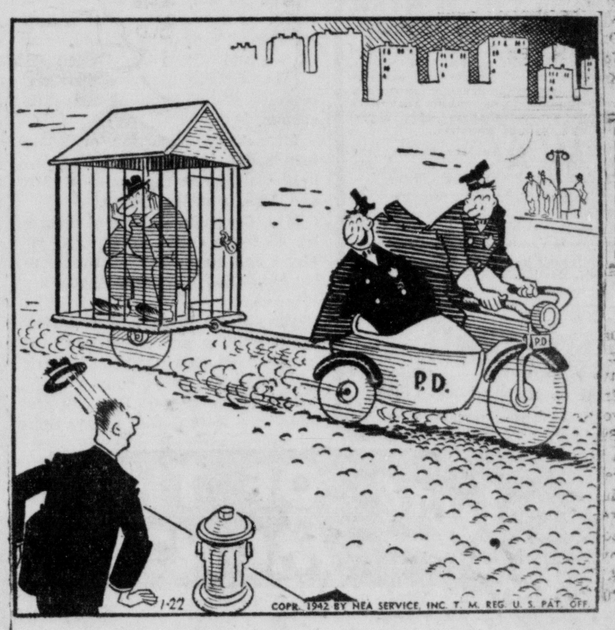

Murphy said that most of the 258,396 jobs filled by the division last year were in private industry, and about 15 per cent were taken by relief clients. The number of jobs filled last year was about 55 per cent greater than the 1940 record of 166,367 placements.

Compensation paid during 1941 was $28,370,453, about one-third less than the $43,649,901 awarded in 1940.

Methodist Church

Hughes B. Morris, minister.

10:00—Sunday school.

11:00—Family worship service. God's News for the Home Folks is the subject of the sermon which Rev. Morris will deliver this coming Sunday morning. Perhaps you have wondered what God has to say to the folks at home during days like these. Come and hear this sermon this Sunday.

Sunday evening at 6:30 the Epworth League will have an open meeting in the church sanctuary where they will present some color pictures on the work of the church in South America. You are all invited to attend this meeting. A silver offering will be taken.

Sunday is World Service Sunday. Let us all be prompt in our attendance at the church school hour. The offering goes to our missionary work.

January 30 is to be the second annual Pan-American supper. This is sponsored by the Epworth League. It will be held in the church parlors and you are invited to come and eat your supper between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock. They are having various dishes from South, Central, and North America, including chili, fish, rice, beans and many other interesting items, even tamales. Plan to eat your evening meal on the 30th with our young people at the church.

Lee Center

Agriculture Evening School

Feed well the good producers says Dean K. Finch, voc. ag. instructor, in charge of the Lee Center Ag. Evening School discussion on milk for defense, Monday, January 19. Twenty-eight local farmers are registered in the course.

Balancing rations according to the roughage used, and feeding according to the production was stressed by the group in discussing an increase in milk production for national defense. Without a question, more milk production is a patriotic duty and the farm public is doing it in that spirit but it can be profitable also as evidenced by the experience of August Bohn, "I balanced my rations and increased my herd production 30 pounds of milk a day." He added, "It didn't take a pound more feed, either."

Raymond Degner had a similar experience with feeding his cows according to their production. He says, "I keep my milk weights all the time but decided I would weigh my feed also. I found that I could lower the amount of my grain and did so. My production has been at the same level as before and I saved $20 in feed cost."

Next Monday evening the group is planning a discussion on increasing pork production or as it is entitled, "The Little Grunter Chases the Japs." Pork is a vital factor in National Defense. Will the farmer carry his load as he always has in the past?
